10. Deportivo La Coruna 4-3 Paris Saint-Germain (2001 group stage).
 Leroy, the last-minute replacement for the injured Nicolas Anelka, scored twice for PSG as, following Jay-Jay Okocha's fortunate opener, they established a 3-0 lead, Deportivo's normally raucous Riazor stadium stunned to silence. Birmingham fans will wonder how Walter Pandiani could hold sway over European classics, but the substitute's hat-trick of headers, along with a Diego Tristán goal, lead the most unbelievable of comebacks in the final half-hour
